

Date

/ /

Name

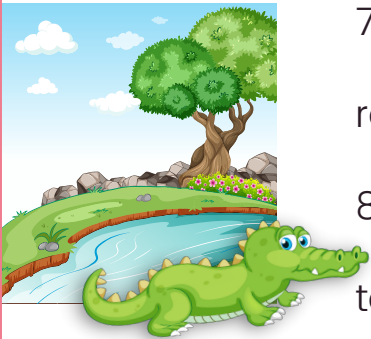

Adverb

An adverb is a word that modifies (describes) a verb (for e.g. he sings loudly), an adjective (for e.g. very tall), another adverb (for e.g. ended too quickly), or even a whole sentence (for e.g. Fortunately, I had brought an umbrella).

Adverbs often end in -ly, but some (such as fast) look exactly the same as their adjective counterparts.

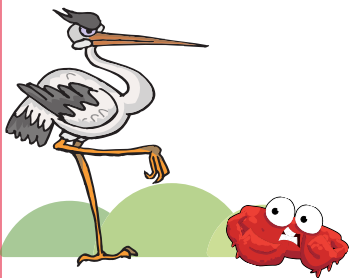

Find and underline adverbs in the sentences below.

1. He often read books while riding bus.
2. Actually, her birthday is next week.
3. Alex can run much faster than other kids in the group.
4. Unfortunately, it started raining, so we had to cancel our fishing plan.
5. She danced beautifully in the inter school talent show.
6. The crocodile thanked him and asked him if he could visit the monkey again.

7. One day, the crocodile came to the banks of the river and rested under the tree.

8. The lion was extremely angry and asked the rabbit to take him to meet the new lion.

9. The crane confessed proudly that it ate all the fish and now it would eat the crab.

10. The rabbit quietly moved towards the tree.

11. I accidentally slipped on the floor.

Date

/ /

Name

Adverb

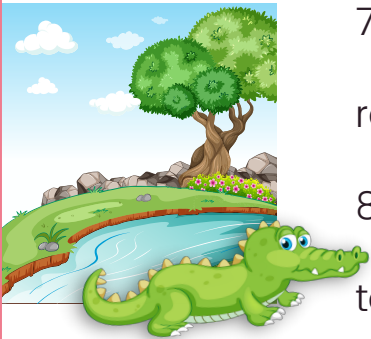

An adverb is a word that modifies (describes) a verb (for e.g. he sings loudly), an adjective (for e.g. very tall), another adverb (for e.g. ended too quickly), or even a whole sentence (for e.g. Fortunately, I had brought an umbrella).

Adverbs often end in -ly, but some (such as fast) look exactly the same as their adjective counterparts.

Find and underline adverbs in the sentences below.

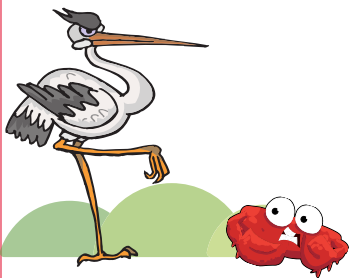

Answers

1. He often read books while riding bus.
2. Actually, her birthday is next week.
3. Alex can run much faster than other kids in the group.
4. Unfortunately, it started raining, so we had to cancel our fishing plan.
5. She danced beautifully in the inter school talent show.
6. The crocodile thanked him and asked him if he could visit the monkey again.

7. One day, the crocodile came to the banks of the river and rested under the tree.

8. The lion was extremely angry and asked the rabbit to take him to meet the new lion.

9. The crane confessed proudly that it ate all the fish and now it would eat the crab.

10. The rabbit quietly moved towards the tree.

11. I accidentally slipped on the floor.

